DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 11/14/05 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

In the referenced title of the invention, the term "TONGUES" has been misspelled "TONQUES".

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

The amendments to the specification filed 4/29/05 are not in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121. Accordingly they have not been entered. Applicant should file an amendment to the specification in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121 to place the appropriate section headings throughout the specification.

The title is too long and not concise.

Appropriate correction is required.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because several words are misspelled and several phrases are grammatically incorrect. Applicant should carefully review and edit the abstract for proper spelling and grammar. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

Claims 1-3 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 1 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(i), which states "Where a claim sets forth a plurality of elements or steps, each element or step of the claim should be separated by a line indentation."

In claim 1, Applicant claims a coupling part comprising a male part that is to be inserted into a female part. Applicant is not positively claiming the female part. The female part is only functionally claimed. Accordingly, the phrase "the locking tongues have free ends pointing in the opposite direction of insertion of the male part into the female part” makes the claim unclear because one would not know whether the claimed subject matter was met unless and until it was used with the unclaimed element.

In claim 2, lines 1-2, all the locking tongues are said to be integral to an end portion of the male part. On lines 5-6, other locking tongues are said to be situated between the two locking tongues. It is unclear as to which tongues, “other locking tongues” reference, and as to which tongues “the two locking tongues” reference.

In claim 2, lines 2-5, the run-on phrase “this end portion being connected to the remainder of the male part through two planar bridge portions which are parallel to the inside of their respective locking tongues that are situated in a radial distance outwardly from each bridge” is awkward and confusing.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson et al (US 4,735,235).

With respect to claim 1, discloses a coupling part having an integral male part (12), wherein the integral male part has a stepping (e.g. between two given tabs 22) and locking tongues (bent-over tabs 22), the locking tongues have free ends and all the locking tongues project slanting outwardly or have hooks projecting outwardly.

With respect to claim 2, as best understood, wherein all the locking tongues are integral to an end portion of the male part, this end portion being connected to the remainder of the male part through two planar bridge portions (on each axial side of rib 18) which are parallel to the inside of their respective locking tongues that are situated in a radial distance outwardly from each bridge, other locking tongues (22) are situated between the two said locking tongues along a circumferential direction.

With respect to claim 3, wherein all the locking tongues are situated at a free end portion of the male part.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
